Why we're recruiting

- Sequester limited number of new ATC personnel in training pipeline
- To meet operational demand, we will recruit, screen, and select many to enter training by Summer of 2014
- Number of applicants selected and receiving a written offer will be determined by needs of the FAA

ATCS Eligibility

To be considered for a position as an air traffic controller, you must:

- Be a U.S. citizen
- Start the FAA Academy no later than your 31st birthday
- Be willing to relocate to an ATC facility based on FAA's highest needs at the time
- Have three years of progressively responsible work experience, or a Bachelor's degree, or a combination of post-secondary education and work experience that totals three years.

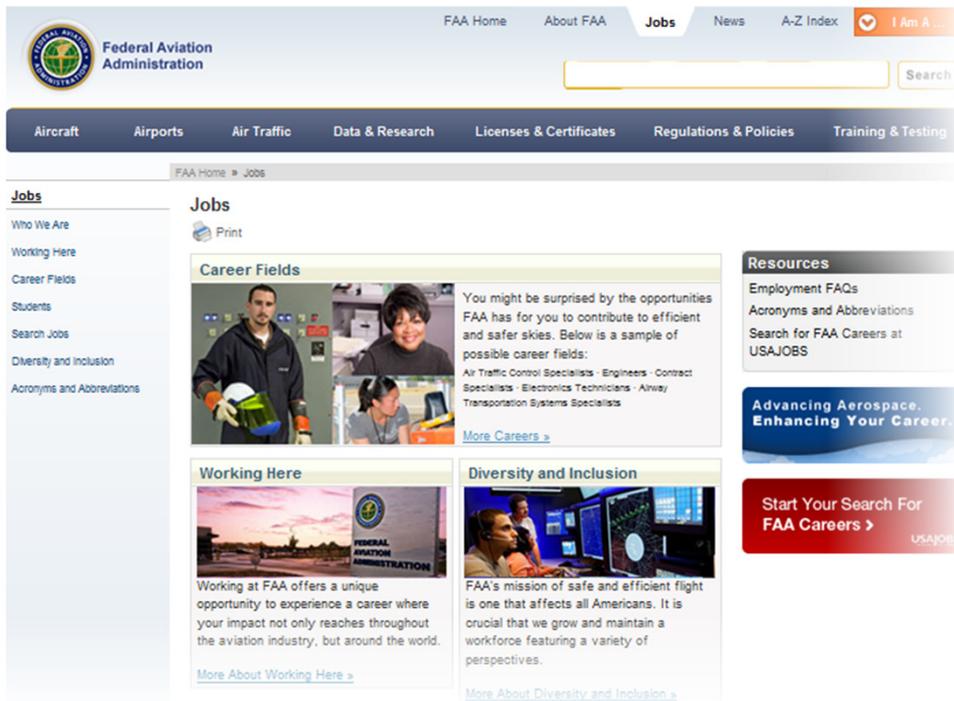

Selected applicants must also:

- Pass the FAA pre-employment tests
- Pass a medical examination
- Pass a security investigation
- Demonstrate ability to speak English clearly enough to be understood over communications equipment

How to Apply

The screenshot shows the FAA website's 'Jobs' section. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the FAA logo and the text 'Federal Aviation Administration'. Below this is a search bar and a menu with options like 'Aircraft', 'Airports', 'Air Traffic', 'Data & Research', 'Licenses & Certificates', 'Regulations & Policies', and 'Training & Testing'. The main content area is titled 'Jobs' and includes a 'Print' button. There are three main sections: 'Career Fields' with a photo of an ATIS operator and text about opportunities; 'Working Here' with a photo of an airport and text about the unique experience; and 'Diversity and Inclusion' with a photo of people at a computer and text about FAA's mission. A 'Resources' sidebar on the right lists 'Employment FAQs', 'Acronyms and Abbreviations', and 'Search for FAA Careers at USAJOBS'. There are also promotional banners for 'Advancing Aerospace, Enhancing Your Career' and 'Start Your Search For FAA Careers'.
